The Arrival of an English Newsletter

We are pleased to announce the debut of an English edition of the ROSA GALLICA newsletters in spring 2005. Two issues will be published per year, one in spring, the other in fall. These semiannual issues will present an assortment of articles that appeared in previous newsletters in the French language. Their selection will be based on delivering the latest information on the historic French varieties, which are the specialized interest of the association. The price is 10 euros per year.
